

Why Women Only

It is often said that every woman in every pew is a member of ECW. If you consider yourself a woman and are a member of the Episcopal Church, then you are an Episcopal Church woman. Since you have, by obtaining this packet, expressed an interest in organizing or revitalizing women's activities in your parish, you probably understand "Why Women Only." But as women have become integrally involved in the life and work of the Church, the need for a women's group is not as readily apparent. An important 'why': women simply enjoy getting together with other women – whether it is for fellowship, Bible study or working on a project. Another important aspect is the opportunity for women to grow into the life of the Church through women's ministries. Many of the women in leadership roles in the larger body of the Church began their involvement/ministry with the Episcopal Church Women.

Episcopal Church Women groups most importantly offer an environment for spiritual growth and opportunities for ministry. Participation in these groups also promotes an understanding of the structure and functionality of the Church.

Why Episcopal Church Women

When considering the establishment of an Episcopal Church Women group, knowing our history and understanding our structure is critical. From our beginning as the Women's Auxiliary, and following through many changes in purpose and activities, the Episcopal Church Women have played a significant role in the work of the Episcopal Church. Cherished memories of the contributions of resources - ranging from financial to missionary to training to spirituality - which women have made throughout our history are a source of satisfaction and pride for all of us.

The old stereotype of Episcopal Church Women as 'cooks' and 'fundraisers' is fading as we move into the future with new ideas, relevant programs, and unlimited opportunities for spiritual growth and service. Support is available to you through Episcopal Church Women in your local parish, convocation or deanery, diocese, province, and nationally at www.ecwnational.org

Relationship with the Rector/Vicar

This is a very key element. It is very important to have the support of the Rector or Vicar of your parish. Schedule a meeting of the key women in the congregation with him/her. Tell him/her that you are interested in organizing the women's ministries of the church. One method of doing so is by forming an Episcopal Church Women group. Explain that you would like to have a meeting of all the women of the church to discuss plans. Include an invitation to attend that gathering. Emphasize that you understand that activities should supplement the existing mission and ministry of the congregation.

How to Start or Participate in a National Episcopal Church Women Group

Financers

This should be discussed with the rector or vicar. Some Episcopal Church Women groups maintain their own accounts, and others are supported through a line item in the parish budget. Some also function event to event by requesting contributions to participate. The size of your group and the level of activities will impact any decisions on funding.

First Meeting

In consultation with the rector or vicar, select a date for gathering the women of your congregation to talk about the formation of an Episcopal Church Women group. The date and time should be when the greatest number of women can participate. We recommend that you ask someone from outside of your congregation to facilitate this session. There are women serving on the diocesan, provincial, and national boards who can help. This creates an atmosphere of importance and openness. Promoting the gathering is critical. Use all methods of communication available such as Sunday bulletins, email, the church website, monthly newsletters, announcements, posters, special mailings, phone calls and face to face invitations. Please see Section 9, Promotional Quips for Bulletins and Newsletters. In planning the agenda, include time for prayer, fellowship, ice-breakers, personal reflection, group discussion, and next step decisions. Make sure to provide childcare.
